

LIBRARY NEEDS
FUNDS TO MEET
BUDGET FOR '56

Members of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library at their January meeting Friday evening adopted a budget for 1956, tightened purse strings on a short bank balance with state funds for 1955 yet unrecieved, acknowledged a number of gifts and then addressed several hundred invitations to the library's tenth anniversary celebration to be held January 19.

With President Dean Asquith of Biglerville presiding, the directors went over plans for the birthday celebration. The master of ceremonies will be County Superintendent of Schools H. Edgar Riegler and the program will be supplied by the various joint school districts of the county.

The failure of the state to pay the second and larger installment of its promised $3,375 to the library for 1955 made it impossible for the board to pay all current bills Friday evening. Bills due totaled $1,440 but to preserve a small bank balance the board ordered paid only salaries and other "must" items totaling $879.

Okay $15,311 Budget

The receipt of an additional $338 from the C. L. Eicholtz estate was reported by Treasurer L. S. Long. The board examined and then approved a 1956 budget estimating expenditures at $15,311 with expected receipts coming to only $14,600. The board will seek larger sums from school boards this year and will ask the county commissioners to make an increase in the county appropriation to qualify the library for the maximum state grant.

The new budget provides $3,000 for new books and magazines, the same sum that was set in 1955 when book buying ran to $3,895. The allocation for salaries was raised from $8,500 to $8,750. Larger sums from gifts and library memberships are to be sought this year and fines and rentals are expected to bring in $650. Building fund spending last year totaled $11,447 and the birthday celebration on the 19th will open to the public the garage-stackroom addition just completed at the main library on E. High St.

Circulation Keeps Growing

The monthly report of Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, librarian, showed new increases in circulation in December. Loans at the main library totaled 3,130 as compared with 2,400 in the previous December while the grand total on loans for the month came to 22,320 as compared with 22,094 in December, 1954. The bookmobile traveled 258 miles last month and the library registered 37 new users, 20 of them adults.

Mrs. Wilson announced a memorial gift of $25 from the Chi Omega Alumni association for children's books as a memorial to Miss Ma-Belle Heretzer. She said 11 books for children in the first three grades have been bought with the gift.

Other Gifts

Another memorial book gift was listed from Nelson Sharretts in memory of the late Raymond F. Topper. The book is "Mr. Lincoln's Army." A gift of $5 from James Deakon, St. Louis newsman here with the president, will be used to buy a Civil War book, Mrs. Wilson said.

Because of the financial condition of the library, the board decided against adopting any policy now on sick leave for employees but until such a policy can be adopted the librarian will arrange for staff members to make up minor losses of time because of illness.

The next regular board meeting will be held February 3.

AUXILIARY MEETS MONDAY

Mercury Drops As Arctic Air
Mass Spreads Across Plains

State Highway Department cinder crews went to work throughout most of Adams County by 9 o'clock this morning as highways became slippery from snow that began falling about 8:15 o'clock. The temperature was not far below the freezing point after sinking to 22 degrees overnight. By 8:30 a.m. the mercury stood at 28 degrees.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Icy air and stiff winds stung the midcontinent today as arctic air spread from the Plains over the Upper and Middle Mississippi Valley.

Temperatures dropped sharply, more than 30 degrees in some areas, and fell to below zero in many sections.

It was 15 degrees below zero in Grand Forks, N.D., one of the coldest spots, and where yesterday's high was -4. Zero or below readings

BULLETIN

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — President Eisenhower will hold an informal news conference here tomorrow — his first since his September heart attack. But it was uncertain whether he would talk about his political future.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, told newsmen the convalescing President had volunteered to report to them on the state of his health, on how he has enjoyed his Florida stay and about his work plans for the immediate future. Eisenhower returns to Washington tomorrow.

DAR DELEGATES ELECTED FOR SPRING MEETING

Delegates were elected Friday afternoon by the Gettysburg Chapter, DAR, to attend the Continental Congress in Washington next spring during a meeting at the Y.W.C.A. at which Dr. M. Esther Bloss, head of the sociology department of Gettysburg College, described "The Changing Status of Women."

Mrs. C. H. Hett, regent, who will be a delegate, will have Mrs. Harold Reuning as her alternate. Others elected were Mrs. Guile W. Lefever, delegate, Mrs. George H. Thrush Jr., alternate, and Mrs. Joseph R. Riden and Miss Elsie Eisenhart as reserve alternates. The page is Miss Anna Mary Riden.

The speaker, who was introduced by Mrs. Thrush, program chairman, said that "many years ago women, who weren't supposed to have any kind of opinion about anything, used to write poetry and novels under a man's name. Women," she explained, "were classed with a minority group such as idiots, negroes and criminals. They ranked with children."

Changing Status

"Titles of books through the years give a clue to the changing status of women," she declared.

DR. M. ESTHER BLOSS

"In glancing at books about women in a library I discovered the titles, 'White Slaves of Free America,' 'Desperate Women,' 'Forgotten Ladies' and 'Little-Known Sisters of Well-Known Men.'"

"Long ago a married woman in England was civilly dead," said Doctor Bloss. "She had no legal rights over her property, children or anything. Mississippi is the first state which passed a law to the effect that married women could control property. The right to vote which was approved in 1920 gave women a new sense of dignity in the United States. They took a greater interest in their community, nation and the world."

Doctor Bloss explained how the county finally became aware of the needs of women as far as education was concerned in the early 19th century. "For a woman to seek a higher education in 1830 was a scandal; in 1880, a daring departure; in 1910, an oddity," she said.

In Every Field

"Men are beginning to appreciate the educated woman now," she asserted. "A husband is proud of (Continued on Page 3)

HABEAS CORPUS

The Adams County Court today granted Blanche Elizabeth (Swain) Deisley, 14 Lincolnway East, New Oxford, a divorce from James Newton Deisley, Lancaster, on grounds of indignities and cruel and barbarous treatment.

The court also, in an eight-page opinion, dismissed the petition of Richard Tonsel, Gettysburg, for a writ of habeas corpus. Tonsel is serving a term in the Eastern State Penitentiary on charges of burglary, morals, and assault and battery.

Tonsel had claimed that he was deprived of his rights when he was permitted to enter a plea of guilty to the charges and that the court was prejudiced in imposing sentence. Court Opinion

In its opinion the court quoted from the record which shows that Tonsel wished to plead guilty, and that it was only by the court's insistence that the court appointed an attorney for him. The record shows that the attorney and Tonsel conferred at some length with Tonsel's mother present and that the attorney had a number of facts available before advising the court that Tonsel wished to continue his guilty plea.

The record also shows that the occasion marked the fourth time that Tonsel had been sent to an institution. The present case followed the same pattern, the court held, as prior cases on which he had been sent to White Hill. The court quoted a number of precedents which aver that the court should use such prior information in determining sentence.

25 KILLED IN COUNTY DURING
LAST 12 MONTHS

Pennsylvania State Police from the Gettysburg sub-station were called to investigate fewer auto accidents during 1955 than in 1954 or 1953. But the accidents produced the highest death rate and caused the most injuries in the county's history.

Twenty-five persons were fatally injured in auto crashes last year, compared with 15 killed in 1954, 11 in 1953 and 17 in 1952.

In proportion to the number of cars on the road it is not considered as bad a record as that set in 1930, when 21 persons were killed on Adams county highways, just four less than in 1955 — twenty-five years later.

Records of other years, selected at random, show 18 killed in 1935, and 15 in 1926. But only six were killed in auto crashes in 1929.

The 25 killed last year, police said, was "beyond all reason."

318 Are Injured

Last year 318 persons were injured in auto crashes on Adams county highways. For many the injuries they received in 1955's accidents will mean a lifetime of pain, disfigurement and maiming.

The number hurt in 1955 compares to 283 injured in 1954, 280 in 1953 and 238 in 1952.

Damage caused by the accidents is estimated at $255,470. That amount does not include the many accidents that occurred in the county and were not investigated by state police. Gettysburg police investigated 102. Littlestown, Fairfield, and New Oxford police investigated mishaps in their communities. There are other accidents which are not investigated, single car crashes in which the driver, often injured, makes no report. Sometimes crashes occur in which neither driver wishes to call in police, or is in no condition to have them called in, and they, too, are not reported and not investigated.

There were 343 auto accidents investigated in 1955, compared with 364 in 1954, 374 in 1953, and 301 in 1952.

The state police traveled more than a quarter million miles, and made approximately 5,000 patrols during the year. They made approximately 1,200 arrests.

The officers plan to continue and intensify their efforts to reduce accidents in the county.

Probe "Sabotage"
In Shoe Factory

State and local police, as well as the FBI, have been called in to investigate the deliberate destruction of shoes on the production line at the Carroll Shoe Co., Littlestown, a company official disclosed today.

In recent days numerous shoes have been ruined by slashing of the heel and other parts as the shoes proceeded along the production line. Authorities are convinced that the destruction is due to deliberate "sabotage" within the shoe plant and the investigation is proceeding along those lines.

"When apprehended the person will be prosecuted to the fullest extent," the company spokesman said.

SCOUTS RECEIVE
EISENHOWERS

Some time ago Mrs. Leroy M. Sheads, Fairfield, secretary of the Adams County Girl Scouts, sent Mrs. Eisenhower a photograph of the county Girl Scout float that won an award in the Battle of Gettysburg Anniversary parade last summer, explaining that since Mrs. Eisenhower is honorary national president of the Girl Scouts and since her home was reproduced in a photograph of the float.

The following is the text of Mrs. Eisenhower's letter.

THE WHITE HOUSE
Washington
Gettysburg
December 17, 1955

Dear Mrs. Sheads:

You were very kind to send me the lovely colored photographs of the float designed by members of the Adams County Girl Scouts. I was deeply touched by your thought in attempting to reproduce our Gettysburg home and only wish that I could have had the opportunity to see it personally in the Fourth of July parade.

The President and I are so happy to be spending some time in Gettysburg and our only regret is that we cannot see as many of our friends as we would like. Nevertheless, we deeply appreciate your nice invitation to visit your new camp and hope that you and your Scouts will have many happy times there. With every good wish,

Mamie Doud Eisenhower

Secretary, Adams County Girl Scout Council
Fairfield, Pennsylvania

President Eisenhower also sent the Girl Scouts a letter expressing his interest and best wishes. The President's letter was published in The Gettysburg Times January 5.

Prince Rainier And Future
Bride Attend Charity Ball

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

NEW YORK (AP) — The future Princess of Monaco and her Prince were formally welcomed by society last night amid the dazzle of a fashionable charity ball.

It was the first public appearance of lovely Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier III since their engagement on Thursday.

In her latest film, "The Swan," the blonde star falls in love and marries the heir to the throne of a mythical European kingdom.

But it was no myth for the Philadelphia beauty last night when the orchestra struck up the national anthem of Monaco, a tiny principality overlooking the blue Mediterranean, as she and her fiance entered the flower-bedecked grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Some 1,000 guests, representing the cream of New York society, foreign aristocracy and members of the diplomatic corps, rose to greet them.

The 26-year-old movie star was clad in an off-shoulder brocade dress, dazzling white. A spray of

REPORT $556,000 FLOOD DAMAGES

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. (AP)—Mayor James T. Murphy says this city suffered $556,000 damage to public and private property during the floods last August touched off by Hurricane Diane.

Murphy and other officials were on hand yesterday at a public hearing conducted by Col. Allen F. Clark Jr. and four associates from the Philadelphia district office of the U. S. Army Engineers.

The hearing was the first of four to be held by the Army board.

Hearing in Stroudsburg

The next will be at Stroudsburg, Pa., Jan. 15, followed by a hearing in Trenton, N. J., Jan. 20. The fourth, either at Easton, Pa., or Philadelphia, has been scheduled for Jan. 27.

Appeals were made here for federal help in dredging, and constructing dams and dikes to prevent future overflooding of the Delaware and Neversink Rivers.

John Borden, engineer for INCO-DEL (New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York Interstate Commission on the Delaware River) asked consideration of previous INCO-DEL recommendations for the building of four dams.

The proposed locations are at Barryville, Godeffroy and Canonsville, N. Y., and Wallpack Bend, Pa.

Three American jockeys who have ridden 3,000 or more winners plan to ride at Hialeah this winter. They are Ted Atkinson, Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Adams.

Check Confession In Old Murder Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Police were trying today to check the story of a 44-year-old dishwasher who they said confessed a part in the 1947 "Black Dahlia" murder case in Los Angeles and accused another man of the actual slaying.

The dishwasher, who identified himself as Ralph Von Hiltz, walked into a police station Thursday night.

Arthur Bendix, the desk lieutenant on duty, said the man told him originally that he had killed Elizabeth Short, 22, who became known in the famous unsolved murder case as the "Black Dahlia" because of her preference for black clothes.

She was found, mutilated and cut in half, on Jan. 15, 1947, in Los Angeles.

A score and a half persons have "confessed" the murder.

Home Crushed By Mountain Slide

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A mountain-side cracked last night sending tons of rock and dirt rumbling into an exclusive Sherman Oaks residential section.

One couple could only watch as the slowly moving force pushed their $33,900 house off its foundation and pressured down a rear wall. Another home was menaced by the slide.

Robert Gross, 35, said he and his wife were cleaning the unoccupied house preparatory to showing it today to a prospective buyer when he heard noises in the back yard.

Investigating what he thought were youngsters throwing rocks, Gross found the rear yard filling with earth and the structure moved four inches off its foundation.

TRACE CAUSE OF TRENTON FIRE

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Officials today probed for the cause of a five-alarm fire which destroyed a clothing store and damaged adjacent shops in Trenton's busiest downtown block.

Fire Chief Thomas Phelan estimated total damage at $350,000 in last night's two-hour blaze which brought 135 firemen to the scene three blocks from the State House.

Destroyed was the three-story Morlee Inc. building at 20 E. State St., along with its contents of children's wear, linens and ladies' accessories.

Suffer Smoke, Water Damage

A sports shop and shoe outlet on either side of the burned out building suffered heavy smoke and water damage but were expected to open for business today.

Four firemen were injured, two of them hospitalized.

Suburban fire companies—including three from Morrisville, Pa., across the Delaware River—rolled into Trenton during the fire. Under a mutual aid plan, they filled the empty city engine houses ready to answer any other alarms.

DISSENTERS LIKE IKE'S 'SOIL BANK'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's promise of a "soil bank program" for farmers drew support today from two Midwest Republican senators who have been bucking administration farm programs.

Sens. Mundt (R-SD) and Young (R-ND) said in separate interviews the new offer of payments to farmers who cut back production of surplus crops "is very appealing."

Eisenhower referred to the proposal in his State of the Union message Thursday, and is expected to give more details in a special farm message Monday.

Battled Farm Program

Mundt and Young were among a number of Republican lawmakers from the farm belt who battled the current program of Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson for flexible and lower farm price supports.

Both favored junking the entire flexible price support program last year and restoring the higher level rigid farm supports previously in operation.

July Carnival Dates Set In Abbottstown

At the regular meeting of the Abbottstown Fire Company dates for the annual carnival were set for July 19, 20, 21. A report of the Christmas turkey sale given by committee chairman Homer Hafer listed a profit of $77.

Chief Rodgers reported that two fire alarms, one a grass fire and the other a chimney fire, had been answered since the last meeting. Rodgers requested a supply of hose and fittings for the large pump to replace worn equipment.

Rodgers and his line officers were requested to prepare a list, with prices, of new equipment needed for formal action at the next meeting.

The By-Laws Committee will also offer its proposed revision at the next meeting.

Action was taken to discontinue renting of the 2nd floor apartment in the fire hall and to request exonerations from future taxes.

The treasurer reported receipts of $346.80, including a $200 appropriation from Borough Council. Donations were also received from Hamilton and Paradise Twpss. Bills amounting to $156 were approved for payment.

News Briefs

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The 20-year-old niece of New York State's conservation commissioner was reported missing from her home today, only hours before her scheduled wedding.

She is Judy Wehle, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Wehle. Her uncle is Louis A. Wehle, wealthy Rochester brewer executive and state conservation commissioner in Gov. Averell Harriman's Democratic administration.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The best kept political secret in Pennsylvania today is what went on yesterday when Gov. Leader met with Democratic chiefs to discuss who would be slated as the organization's candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator.

About the only thing certain about the Harrisburg parley is that no decision was reached.

The two top candidates for the nomination are former Mayor Joseph S. Clark Jr., of Philadelphia and U. S. Rep. William J. Green, Philadelphia Democratic chairman.

ANSWER TWO ALARMS

The Abbottstown firemen recently were called to extinguish a grass fire at the home of Walter Laughman. The same afternoon they were called to a fire in Forrest's junk yard caused by an old car which was being dismantled.

Landmark At Lehigh Damaged By Flames

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Fire badly damaged two floors of the east wing of Williams Hall, a science building and landmark on the Lehigh University campus since 1903.

The section badly damaged housed the Geology Department for graduate students, and directly behind it, the metallurgical section, containing laboratories, classrooms and offices.

Virtually all of Bethlehem's fire equipment and personnel fought the blaze in the 30-degree early morning cold.

Neither the cause of the fire nor any estimate of damage was determined immediately.

Ask Court OK On Damage Settlement

A petition seeking approval of settlement in the trespass action of a Hagerstown firm against a truck transport firm and Ralph D. Masser, Fairfield R. 5, was presented in Franklin County court Friday.

Legal counsel for Mrs. Esther S. Barnhart, Hagerstown, guardian of her daughter, Esther S. Barnhart, petitioned Judge Chauncey Deupuy for approval of settlement.

The plaintiff listed $350.75 as hospital, medical and lost wage expenses, in their suit filed November 8 and also asked $1,500 damage for "pain and inconvenience."

Miss Barnhart was hurt in an accident April 18, 1954, when she was a passenger in a car operated by Jack Anderson on Route 16 in Wayne Heights, near Waynesboro.

SUSPICION FALLS ON BROWNELL, MISS BENTLEY

WASHINGTON (AP)—A loyalty board ruling vindicating William Henry Taylor has ignited a controversy over whether the finding cast doubt on testimony of Atty. Gen. Brownell and Elizabeth Bentley.

Byron N. Scott, attorney for the International Monetary Fund official, said it did. But Henry S. Waldman, chairman of the board which cleared Taylor, stated later that was not so. He said "their names never should have been linked with this case."

Taylor, 48, is assistant director of the Monetary Fund's Middle East department.

Find "No Reasonable Doubt"

T. Paul Fairbank, secretary of the international organization's loyalty board, said yesterday that panel had considered new evidence and had found there is "no reasonable doubt" about Taylor's loyalty. This action reversed a board ruling against Taylor last June 28.

During the Truman administration Taylor served in the Treasury Department's monetary research division. His boss was Harry Dexter White, a former assistant secretary of the Treasury, whom Brownell described in 1953 as a Soviet spy. White died in 1948, a few days after denying before the House Committee on Un-American Activities that he had engaged in Communist activities.

During a series of congressional investigations going back seven years, Miss Bentley, who said she had been a Communist courier, testified that Taylor had belonged to a Red espionage ring within the government during World War II. Brownell brought up Taylor's name when he appeared before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee in its November 1952 investigation of White's activities. The attorney general said then that, according to information received by the FBI, a Communist spy ring was anxious to have Taylor in the Treasury Department.

PAPERS FORCED TO RAISE PRICE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Assn. reported Friday that rising publishing costs are forcing the commonwealth's publishers to boost the price of their newspapers.

The PNPA said its 1956 state newspaper directory and advertising rate guide indicates 4 daily, weekly and Sunday newspapers in the state have been forced to raise their prices.

The directory lists 431 Pennsylvania newspapers, 129 dailies, 288 weeklies and 14 Sunday papers.

The directory showed 17 daily newspapers had hiked their price, six of them to seven cents. The prevailing price of newspapers, except Sunday editions, is five cents.

Preaching Mission

The closing service of the annual preaching mission was held on Friday evening in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. A large congregation was present to hear the sermon on the subject "We Believe in the Church" delivered by the Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, professor of systematic theology at the Gettysburg Seminary and guest speaker for the week's services.

The worship was in charge of the Rev. Porter W. Seiwel, pastor of Redeemer's Evangelical and Reformed Church. An anthem was sung by Redeemer's Senior Choir. Mrs. Winfield A. Lippy was organist for the service. The Rev. G. Howard Koons, pastor of Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church, and president of the Littlestown Ministerium, which sponsored the mission, spoke briefly.

The NCAA rules panel which meets late next week will listen to its recommendations.

Ray Elliot of Illinois, AFCA president and a member of the NCAA Rules Committee, said before today's meeting he anticipated no major changes in the rules would be recommended. But, he said, the "sucker shift" which is dignified in the rule book as "false start" certainly would be discussed.

The "sucker shift" is a movement by an offensive team from one formation into another. It's legal, but has been used sometimes in the past solely as a gimmick to draw the defensive team offside and earn a five-yard penalty.

his accomplished wife. She is an asset in the home both in teaching the children and in presiding socially at his table. There is hardly any profession today in which a woman does not participate. Teaching, of course, is still the woman's stronghold, although men still hold the top-bracket jobs and the policy-making positions.

"The two World Wars provided occupations for thousands of women and since the wars the jobs have become permanent positions," she explained. "Small, compact living quarters, processed foods and household appliances have made the role of career-woman much easier. Besides the great number of office workers, women have embraced such careers as lumbermen, trappers, taxi drivers, stevedocks and telephone linemen."

"Even though women are now regarded as people," said the speaker, "they still aren't as free as men. There are some states which do not pay equal salaries to both sexes. Every year an amendment is introduced into Congress proposing equal rights for men and women but it hasn't been passed to date. Some women, themselves, oppose equal rights."

Memorial Service

Doctor Bloss is a graduate of Cornell University and received her master's and doctor's degree from Columbia University.

A memorial service was held for the late Mrs. Henry W. A. Hanson, wife of Dr. Hanson, president emeritus of Gettysburg College, at the beginning of the meeting. Miss Elsie Eisenhart read the "in memoriam."

Mrs. Guile W. LeFever, Miss Alice Black and Mrs. Raymond Topper comprise the nominating committee to select a slate of officers for the local chapter for the period 1956-59.

Taxation Article

Mrs. Schwenk read an article on Taxation in connection with national defense in the absence of her mother, Mrs. Roy E. Zinn, national defense chairman.

Mrs. Thrush read a letter of appreciation from Biglerville Girl Scout Troop 40 for a flag presented to the Scouts by the chapter. Other letters of thanks for contributions of money were received from the Tamassee and Crossmore DAR-sponsored schools. Miss Mary Ellen Yount contributed money for the Indian scholarship fund, it was announced.

Mrs. Kenneth P. Hull and Mrs. J. Kermit Heret are collecting used clothing to be sent to one of the DAR sponsored schools. The deadline for contributions is February 10. This is an annual project of the chapter.

Mrs. Leon Rooks, East Berlin, a new member, and Mrs. Marvin Pond, Ridge Ave., a member of the Mary Clap Wooster Chapter, New Haven, Conn., were present. Mrs. Hett, who presided at the business meeting, also poured at the tea table which was decorated with white mums.

BLAMES HEREDITY FOR HEART ILLS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A leading specialist blames heredity more than high-pressure living for the increasing rate of heart deaths.

He is Dr. Irvine Page, Cleveland, Ohio, president of the American Heart Assn.

"I think that men lived at high pressure ever since they built the pyramids in Egypt," he said. "Something else is responsible for our continued increase in heart deaths."

"About 800,000 are dying of heart disease now, and we have predicted that no less than 1,200,000 will succumb to heart disease in 1960."

Dr. Page addressed yesterday's opening of a 10-day cavalcade of health, sponsored by the Los Angeles County Medical Assn.

Heredity, he says, is probably responsible for the fact that heart disease strikes so many more Caucasian Americans than it does Navajo Indians or Japanese. But diet also is a factor, he added.

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The lighter South squad went into today's seventh annual Senior Bowl game as a touchdown favorite, mainly on the strength of Bob Hardy's passing and its faster backs.

Hardy, Kentucky quarterback chosen most valuable player in the Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, completed 58 of 106 passes for 777 yards during the past season.

His opposing quarterbacks were Iowa's Jerry Reichow, most valuable player in the East-West game at San Francisco, and Jim Haluska of Wisconsin, the nation's leading passer. Each accounted for more than 1,000 yards during the season.

Ready for Hardy's passes were ends Howard Schellenberger, his All America teammate at Kentucky, and Tommy Harkins of Vanderbilt's Gator Bowl champions; and backs Don McIlheny of SMU; Ed Verek of Maryland; and Joe Childress and Fob James of Auburn.

Ready for the running chores for the Yankees were Lou Baldacci of Michigan; Bob Moss of West Virginia, and Bill Murakowski of Purdue.

The series stands at 3-3. The South won last year 12-6.

Coaches are Paul Brown of the champion Cleveland Browns for the South and Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions for the North.

The 50 players become professionals in the game. Each member of the winning team receives $500 and the losers $400.

TEN YEARS AGO

1945 Weather Was Mild With Chilly Finish: Although 1945 closed with one of the coldest Decembers on record here, weather records of Dr. Henry Stewart, local observer, showed today that eight months of last year were warmer than normal and seven of them showed surpluses of rainfall.

Sub-zero readings taken here December 23 and 24 made last month the fifth December in 42 years in which sub-zero weather has come to Gettysburg.

The coldest December weather ever recorded here was on December 21, 1942, when a low of 14 below zero was reached. In 1917 there was a reading of nine below equalling a mark set in December 1914. In 1910 a low of two below zero was reached in December 10.

195 Couples Get Licenses In '45: 46 Begin Divorce Suits: There were more than ten times as many marriage licenses issued in Adams county during 1945 than there were divorce decrees granted and the number of marriage licenses exceeded the preceding year by 55.

Total number of licenses issued at the office of Mrs. Emma E. Sheffer, clerk of courts, was 195, compared to 140 for 1944. A check of the records of the office of Adams county prothonotary Arthur H. Shields showed that 49 divorce actions were started during the year. Out of this number 19 degrees were granted and two actions were dismissed.

Countians Wed At Service On New Year's Eve: Miss Nettie M. Sandoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sandoe, Biglerville and Samuel H. Halsey Jr., New Cumberland, were married at the annual Watch-night services in Bender's Lutheran Church.

Disease-Free Winter Setting County Record: Records of William I. Shields, state sanitarian for Adams county, reveal that no contagious diseases requiring quarantines have occurred in rural Adams county in more than three months, a record that has not been approached since 1919.

Winter months, often the time for the heaviest load of serious illness, have been entirely free of contagious ailments for the first time within the period covered by the health officer's records that start in 1919.

Miss Lynch Is Wed In Reno: Miss Ann Masters Lynch, daughter of Mrs. Kenderton S. Lynch, Breidenbaugh apartments, became the bride of Albert Amandus Hansen, San Mateo, Calif., in a ceremony performed Wednesday afternoon in Reno, Nevada.

New Office Manager Robert Hartley: Carlisle street, has been appointed manager of the Gettysburg Thrift Plan office, Center Square. He formerly held this position but for the past three years was employed in a defense plant in York. He has resumed his residence in Gettysburg.

Half Of Longest Bridge In County Collapses As Ice Breaks Pole Props: One span of the 132 foot bridge — the longest in Adams county — that crosses Rock Creek a mile above the Maryland line dropped 22 feet into the swollen stream last Saturday and swept downstream to the Monocacy river.

The break up of ice on the creek carried away 10 telephone pole props the highway department had used to bolster the 96 foot section. The western span, also supported by props, remains in place. J. William Kendlehart Jr., superintendent of maintenance for the state highway department, said Wednesday inability of the state to secure steel has prevented replacement of the bridge.

Couple Is Wed Saturday In Emmitsburg: Miss Dora P. Goulden, daughter of Mrs. Ida Goulden, Emmitsburg, and Rodney F. Sneeringer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sneeringer, Gettysburg, R. 5, were united in marriage at a nuptial mass Saturday morning in St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg, by the Rev. Fr. Francis Sauble.

Today's Talk

DR. SAMUEL JOHNSON

I have just finished reading the world famous biography by James Boswell of Dr. Samuel Johnson. Why I never read it in my youth should be none too many. It is one of the world's great classics and its most outstanding biography.

In this story you will read of a man's great ability, as well as his faults and virtues. There is no varnishing of his character. The man stands out. He was born in a nest of poverty, and so indelibly did this fact impress him that, in later life, its influence still clung. In a letter to his friend Boswell, he wrote: "Poverty, my dear friend, is so great an evil, and pregnant with so much temptation, and so much misery, that I cannot but earnestly enjoin you to avoid it."

Dr. Johnson was born in 1709 and died in 1784. His first fame came to him after the publication of his Dictionary and, although he later became the author of many other books that are still read, his greatest fame has endured because of Boswell's "Life." In this great work he is followed by Boswell for a period of nearly a quarter of a century and his wise sayings recorded as they were given. He was the friend of the great of his day — Sir Joshua Reynolds, Oliver Goldsmith, David Garrick, and a host of others, who gathered about him to have "good talk."

A most interesting visit is recorded in the meeting of Johnson, and an old classmate of his, at Pembroke College, after a period of nearly half a century. Said Edwards: "You are a philosopher, Dr. Johnson. I have tried to be in my time to be a philosopher; but I don't know how, cheerfulness was always breaking in."

This unique biography reads more fascinatingly than any novel. It was first published in 1791 in two large volumes, but dozens of editions have since followed. A very good one is now to be had in the "glant" series put out by the Modern Library that sells for less than a good lunch today — and its reading will afford a lifetime of pleasure and intellectual profit gained.

Just before Johnson died a letter was handed to him upon his death-bed, and he made this remark: "An odd thought strikes me — we shall receive no letters in the grave." His last words, spoken to a young girl who wished to see him before he died, were these: "God bless you, my dear!"

Just Folks

INDEPENDENCE
If you would independent be,
These things you must not do:
Ask anyone to favor thee
Or for assistance sue.

You must not stoop to do a wrong
Or ever be unjust,
For evil is a ruler strong
That cries aloud: "You must."

Nor must you compromise with sin
Or parley in the fight,
And though you lose or though you win
Care not, if you are right.

If you would independent be,
And servitude disown,
The path of right you first must see.
Then travel it alone.

IKE'S MESSAGE IS CALLED CALM AND RESTRAINED

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's fourth State of the Union message to Congress reflects more than the temper of the times.

It was a calm, restrained message at a time when on the surface the world is calm. While the war with communism continues unabated, it is being fought without guns right now. There were no firecrackers in the message.

Three years of responsibility for running the government and leading the anti-Communist world, judging from the message, have had a sobering effect on the Eisenhower administration.

This message was quite different from the one Eisenhower delivered to Congress in 1953, just after he had taken office and returned from his dramatic post-election trip to Korea, where the war was still on.

Chiang Bottled Up
In that message, his first, Eisenhower announced he was withdrawing the 7th Fleet from its protective role around Formosa. This was the famous "unleashing" of Chiang Kai-shek.

It was a piece of theatricalism which Eisenhower has probably regretted. Chiang couldn't have hit the mainland Red Chinese without big American help.

He never got the help. Instead, he's been bottled up to keep him from starting a war which he couldn't finish and which would involve the United States on the mainland.

If Eisenhower hoped to scare the Red Chinese by "unleashing" Chiang, they did not show it. But he startled, if he didn't scare, American allies who could foresee themselves involved on the mainland too.

"Massive Retaliation"
The Eisenhower administration, through Secretary of State Dulles, gave the Allies some bad hours later also. That was by his talk of "massive retaliation" which was never inflicted even when North Indochina fell.

There were no theatricalisms in Eisenhower's message this year. The Allies have shown the most confidence in American leadership when it stays calm. Eisenhower spoke calmly of Soviet intentions and the need to stay armed.

The Democrats did to this message what they have done to some of Eisenhower's other messages: they mocked it as being simply an extension of the New Deal and "Fair Deal."

But they know, as Eisenhower does, no party could hope to keep office if it sought to eliminate, or failed to extend to some degree, the basic social programs of the past 20 years. And this is an election year.

All the domestic parts of Eisenhower's message prove it is that the Democrats and Republicans are close together. The Democrats themselves are offering only some extensions of their old program. They haven't offered anything startling either.

May Expand Anti-Red Idea Offensive

WASHINGTON (AP)—The administration plans to launch a greatly expanded anti-Communist idea offensive in Asia and the Middle East if funds are voted by Congress.

President Eisenhower is expected to ask in his Jan. 16 budget message for an increase of more than 50 per cent in the appropriation for the U. S. Information Agency, for which Congress voted 85 million dollars last year.

The USIA presently operates about 200 posts such as information centers and libraries in 79 countries over the world. But the under-developed countries in Africa and Asia have come increasingly under Soviet pressure and propaganda campaigns.

Officials feel new U. S. efforts should be concentrated in those regions.

Fringe Benefits Are Deplored

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Newspaper Publishers Assn. said Friday that fringe benefits now represent "a substantial part of total production costs."

It said a survey of 197 daily newspapers showed that such benefits averaged 41 cents an hour per employee, or "nearly 17 per cent of the total cost of each hour of productive labor in newspaper plants."

"The term 'fringes' is a misnomer," reported George N. Dale, chairman of the ANPA special standing committee.

He said they are "as much a part of a man's pay today as is his hourly wage and publishers cannot ignore this fact nor afford to be inaccurately or incompletely informed as to their exact cost."

The ANPA survey listed 22 items as fringes and said the most costly were vacations, overtime premium pay, pensions, sick pay and holidays.

It found that straight time pay for employees of the 197 newspapers averaged $2.05 an hour, with fringes raising the overall cost to $2.46.

Dale said that because fringes "tend to become even more fixed and irreducible elements of costs than wages, they have become primary union objectives."

Fringe costs on individual newspapers in the survey ranged from 14 cents an hour to 99 cents.

IKE'S MESSAGE PLEASES G.O.P.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Remarks by Pennsylvania Republicans and Democrats on President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Thursday:

Sen. Duff (R): The President's message was "dynamic" and should be supported by Congress.

Sen. Martin (R): The message contained "strong spiritual and religious overtones."

Rep. Kearns (R), member of the House Education and Labor Committee: The message "shows that he (Eisenhower) is an excellent tailor as he continues to follow the pattern of his administration."

Rep. Van Zandt (R), member of the House Armed Services Committee: "An honest analysis in a non-partisan manner of the issues that confront this nation at home and abroad."

Rep. Walter (D), co-author of the present immigration law: The President's recommendation that immigration be based on the 1950 census instead of that in 1920 would increase the annual number of immigrants by 400,000. "I don't see how that many could be absorbed."

Rep. Kelley (D): The President wanted to balance the budget "at the expense of our national defense, mutual assistance program and agriculture."

Small Test Results In New Ordinances

WACO, Tex. (AP) — A new city ordinance puts a sort of distance-small test for control of livestock within the city limits.

The limits: No hog raising within 250 feet of a residence, plus a minimum of 14 acre per hog. No cows, horses or mules within 100 feet of residence; no sheep or goats within 50 feet of a residence.

"TRAINS OF THE FUTURE" MAKE MAIDEN TRIPS

NEW YORK (AP)—Two lower-cost, lightweight trains made inaugural runs in the East and Midwest Thursday, presenting "trains of the future" which rail officials hope will solve some passenger train financial headaches.

The pair of "Aerotrains"—sleek, 10-coach units made of aluminum and steel and built by General Motors Corp.—streaked non-stop between Chicago and Detroit and between Washington and Philadelphia.

The first official maiden trip went to the New York Central Railroad with the Chicago-Detroit run, which ended nearly 2½ hours before the Pennsylvania Railroad's run left the nation's capital.

Cuts Running Time
The 283-mile Midwest trip was made in 3 hours and 56 minutes. New York Central officials said regular service on the route takes at least five hours.

The 131-mile Eastern run took just 2 hours. The running time of the Eastern unit was comparable to ordinary express train service, but the new trains topped 90 miles an hour at intervals. However, officials explained that no attempt was made at speed runs.

The ride itself was reported to be rockier and noisier than on conventional trains, but GM officials expressed confidence that such "bugs" could eventually be ironed out.

"Air Ride" Suspension
The GM "Aerotrain" was labeled thus because of the "air ride" suspension, with the springing supplied by air bellows.

The Pennsylvania will use it on the 439 miles between New York and Pittsburgh starting Feb. 6. The Central plans to put its unit into service sometime this spring between Chicago and Detroit.

In Philadelphia last night, James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, said the new train is a "significant contribution" toward solutions of the equipment side of the railroad passenger problem. The Pennsylvania has not bought an "Aerotrain" but is using it on loan from GM. The Pennsy actually is buying a lightweight train made by the Budd Co., scheduled for delivery in April or May.

COUNTY WILL GET VACCINE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Health Department Friday authorized the release of nearly 60 million cubic centimeters of polio vaccine for use in 21 counties.

Secretary of Health Berwyn F. Mattison said the vaccine will be stored in refrigerators distributed last week as part of the establishment of health centers.

The department said it also will distribute from those health centers immunizing agents for diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. County medical directors will handle local distribution.

Counties receiving the allocations: Allegheny, Adams, Bedford, Berks, Butler, Cambria, Chester, Cumberland, Delaware, Fayette, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Huntingdon, Lancaster, Lawrence, Montgomery, Somerset, Washington, Westmoreland and York.

Novelist La Farge Dies Of Hemorrhage

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—Novelist Christopher La Farge, 58, architect, painter and poet, died after a cerebral hemorrhage at Jane Brown Hospital Thursday night.

Among his best-selling books were "The Sudden Guest," "Each to the Other," "The Wilsons," "East by Southwest," "Mesa Verde," "All Sorts and Kinds," and "Beauty for Ashes."

"The Sudden Guest" was a novel dealing with the 1938 hurricane in his home section of Rhode Island, South County. It had a sale of more than half a million copies.

A native of New York, La Farge abandoned a career in architecture for writing in 1932.

CHINESE MENTAL CASE GOES HOME

WASHINGTON (AP)—After six years in a Missouri mental hospital, Liu Yung-ming is being returned to his home in Red China. His government had charged that the 36-year-old Chinese student was being held against his will.

The immigration service announced Thursday night it has received approval from hospital authorities and from British officials in Hong Kong to deport the student. The deportation order has been pending since 1951, on the ground Liu no longer was studying at the University of Missouri.

The service had said earlier it had been balked by inability to get a Hong Kong transit visa. This has now been arranged, it said, and doctors at the state hospital at Farmington, Mo., have reported the student is now well enough to travel alone. He has "received maximum benefits" from his treatment, they said.

An immigration officer will accompany Liu to San Francisco, from which he will sail Jan. 8, the service said.

GREEN MAY SEEK SENATORIAL BID

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Rep. William J. Green Friday named eight prominent state Democrats he said would back him as a nominee for the U. S. Senate seat now held by Republican James H. Duff.

Green's statement was made prior to his departure for Harrisburg for a meeting with Gov. Leader and other party leaders to discuss the senatorial situation.

Green indicated strong interest in entering the race Thursday when all but one of the city's 52 ward leaders presented him with a petition asking that he be the candidate for the Senate in the April 24 primary election. Green is also chairman of the party committee in Philadelphia.

Most prominently mentioned as the party choice has been Joseph S. Clark Jr., who recently completed a four-year term as mayor of Philadelphia.

Like Green, Clark has not officially entered the race but sources close to him say this is a mere formality.

AUTO INSURANCE COMPANIES TO BE INVESTIGATED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Some Pennsylvanians charged "excessive rates" on auto insurance are in line to receive refunds as the result of a state Insurance Department investigation.

Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith said Friday that a continuing investigation has uncovered two out-of-state insurance companies "which improperly classified policyholders and charged excessive rates" on collision insurance.

Most of the cases involve insurance required by finance companies providing loans for auto purchase, he said.

Smith was unable to estimate how many policyholders are entitled to refunds or how large refunds might be. But he said they "could very well amount to $100 if the financing plan extended over 18 months."

Only Few Involved
The commissioner explained that the misclassification were found in cases where finance plans required collision insurance and where the insurance company worked hand in hand with or were subsidiaries of the finance company.

"Only a minority (of insurance companies) are involved," he declared. "The industry is wholeheartedly in favor of what we are doing. Only a few were working in an unconscionable manner. But these few are sufficient in size to do a great deal of damage."

He disclosed that the department has reached agreements with two insurance companies incorporated outside Pennsylvania but licensed to do business in the commonwealth. Both are surveying policyholders of record on June 30, 1955 by direct mail as the first step toward making refunds with interest.

Smith declined to identify the companies except that they "are not small companies, either." He explained the department has no grounds upon which to suspend their licenses and that the examinations although incomplete are not a matter of public record.

"Undoubtedly there will be other companies involved as our examinations proceed and it would be eminently unfair to name the first two," Smith said.

ORRTANNA — Mr. and Mrs. Harman Spence entertained at a turkey dinner New Year's Day honoring their granddaughter, Miss Pat Lightner, Gettysburg who observed her birthday anniversary Monday. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Lightner, parents of the honored guest, her brother, Charles H. Lightner, and Miss Louise Duncan, all of Gettysburg. Miss Lightner received a number of gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weaver, Hagerstown, visited Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pepple.

Mrs. Ruth Spence entertained the Ladies' Bible Class of the local Methodist Church, of which she is a member, at her home Wednesday evening. The following program was given: Opening prayer, by the president, Mrs. Grace Wetzel; Bible reading, by the secretary, Mrs. Spence; readings, "Thanks Be To God," Mrs. Wetzel; "Life's Highway," Mrs. Spence; "Like Christmas," Mrs. Laura Cease; "Hills And Valleys Of Hindstand," Mrs. Mary Tressler.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Edith Stonelifer. The guess box was won by Mrs. Tressler. Refreshments were served and a social hour held.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Biesecker and son, Charles, Hanover, visited Saturday with Mr. Biesecker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. O. Biesecker.

Mrs. Helen Forney, who spent the past 10 months as nurse and housekeeper at the home of the late George and Sadie Herring, has gone to the J. A. Cashman home, Lincolnway West, where she will reside indefinitely.

Son Follows Father In Penmanship Roll

OMAHA (AP)—An eighth grade teacher summoned one of her pupils to her desk to tell him his essay was good but his penmanship terrible.

The next day the boy brought a postcard sent him by his father, who was away from home, and pointed out "I write as good as he does."

The teacher suggested he not follow too closely in his father's footsteps.

Dazzling Speed, Shooting Give Unbeaten Middletown 71-41 Win Over Warriors

Those advance reports as to the speed and shooting ability of the Middletown High School cagers were well substantiated Friday night as the unbeaten Blue Raiders crushed the Gettysburg High Warriors 71-41 in the opening game of the South Penn League race.

Seldom missing on their shots, most of which were from close quarters, the Raiders raced off to a 25-11 lead in the first period and were never in danger.

Oddly enough, the Warriors who have been shooting pretty well themselves, ran into one of their poorest shooting exhibitions and snuffed perhaps a half dozen easy layups in the first period alone. They followed that pattern throughout the remainder of the game while Middletown continued on its red hot pace.

In unexpected Larry DiGiaccio, who wound up with 28 points to be high man for the evening, Middletown has a lad who should turn out to be one of the best in the circuit. He made many steals, turning a number into goals, and turned in a fine all around game.

The score was close only in the first four minutes. Stare took the first and went in for an easy layup for the visitors at the start. Rolf Johnson, who took the lead scoring honors with 17, dribbled through for a goal after 1:30 minutes. McHenry and Archer netted a foul and DiGiaccio to a goal before Johnson and Merle Gorman scored successive shots for the Warriors to cut the edge to 7-6. That was as close as the score came as the visitors ran up 10 straight points before Earl Little landed for the Warriors. DiGiaccio netted 10 points in the period.

Carl Shavely and DiGiaccio each accounted for half dozen points for the Raiders who led 36-16 at the midway point in the second quarter when Coach George Forney inserted an entire new outfit. At the half Middletown held a fool-proof 42-18 lead.

The Warriors were improved in the third period but could make little headway in paring the Raiders' advantage. Going into the final stanza Gettysburg trailed 55-28.

Coach Ed Brunner yanked his scoring ace and when the Warriors sported on goals by Johnson and a pair by Little to cut the visitors' lead to 19 points at 57-38, he re-inserted DiGiaccio at the midway mark and the youngster came through with three quick goals to blot out the mild Warrior flurry.

During the last period the entire Gettysburg squad saw action.

Jayvees Routed
Middletown has now compiled a 7-0 record. The setback snapped a four-game win streak for Gettysburg who are now 4-2. The Warriors run into another toughie Tuesday night at Carlisle, 56-51 winners over Hanover and also unbeaten.

RIVAL LITTLE LEAGUE STOPPED
LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP)—The U. S. District Court Friday took action to prevent Carl E. Stotz, former Little League Baseball commissioner, from setting up a rival organization.

In a temporary injunction ordered by Judge Frederick V. Folmer, the court ruled Stotz could not set up a competitive boys' baseball organization "pending final determination of this action or until further order of the court."

The injunction prevents Stotz from using any Little League trademarks or other features of the Little League organization.

30 Days To Appeal
Stotz has 30 days in which to file an appeal to the U. S. Circuit Court against the injunction. His attorney, Daniel F. Knittle, declined to say whether Stotz will appeal.

"We have no statement to make at this time," Knittle declared.

Folmer handed down his decision based on testimony and oral argument heard earlier in the week on the temporary injunction suit brought by Little League, Inc.

The incorporated organization for boys' baseball filed the injunction suit shortly after Stotz filed a $300,000 breach of contract suit claiming a bylaw change had reduced him to a "mere employee."

Will Lengthen Bow And Arrow Season

HARRISBURG (AP)—The state Game Commission Friday made plans to lengthen the bow and arrow deer season and shorten the bear hunting season for 1956.

Tentative season dates, decided at Thursday's annual meeting, would allow archers three weeks to hunt deer this fall. The last two years the bow and arrow season has been two weeks and before that less than a week long.

Executive Director Logan J. Bennett said the commission is seriously thinking of limiting the 1956 bear season to one week.

In 1954 and 1955 bear hunters were allowed two weeks to make their kill.

Tentative season opening dates announced by the commission:

Small game, Oct. 27; bow and arrow deer, Oct. 8; regular buck deer, Dec. 3; bear, Nov. 26.

Bennett said the commission is considering allowing hunters an extra week, beginning Oct. 20, to hunt grouse and squirrel. Generally, both are included in the regular small game season.

MSM TRIUMPHS; SULLIVAN SETS SCHOOL RECORD

Jack Sullivan, playing his first game in a month, came off the bench Friday night to spark the Mount St. Mary's cagers to a 74-62 win over Hampden-Sydney and topple the Tigers from first place in the Mason-Dixon conference. Sullivan, noticeably handicapped by his ankle injury, tossed in 23 points to break the Mountaineer career record of 1,238 points set by Sal Angelo.

Sullivan, a junior, now has 1,241 points. Jim Phelan's cagers trailed the Mount St. Mary's first half with a 3-0 record. Loyola and Mount St. Mary's now lead the pack with 2-0 records.

The Mountaineers had a wide margin from the field against Hampden-Sydney sinking 28 field goals to 16 for the visitors. But the Tigers dropped in 30 foul shots to push the Mountaineers all the way.

Mount St. Mary's faces two conference foes next week playing Western Maryland at Westminster on Tuesday and American U. at Emmitsburg on Saturday.

New Oxford took over first place in the Adams County Boys Basketball League by hanging up its second straight victory at Fairfield 62-51 Friday evening.

Don Wiseman, who took scoring honors with 24 points for the winners, rammed through 12 points in the first quarter and eight more in the second period to lead Russ Sohnleitner's Colonials to a 39-17 half time lead. Fairfield rallied in the last quarter at the expense of the New Oxford reserves but could not make a serious threat.

East Berlin staged a thrilling last period rally to win at Newville 53-50. Going into the last frame the Indians trailed 39-35. Laverne Krall sparked the winners with 16 points and was closely followed by Harold Altland with 14 and Nelson Group with 12. Neidig, of Newville, topped all scorers on a dozen goals.

Canners Win Easily
Dick Allison's Biglerville Cannery encountered little trouble from invading York Springs and won handily 50-21. Biglerville took a 12-6 lead in the first period and outscored the Springers in each succeeding quarter. Ten Cannery scorers with Larry Hoke leading the pack with 12. Top man for York Springs was Eddie Baker with eight.

Bolling Springs and Littlestown, originally scheduled to clash at Littlestown, postponed their contest until tonight due to Week of Prayer services in Littlestown.

San Francisco
NEAR MARK FOR CAGE VICTORIES

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Unless another major earthquake hits San Francisco, major college basketball's 19-year-old winning-streak record has just 15 more days to live.

The 33-game string of successes was set by Long Island University in 1935-37. Seton Hall matched it in 1939-41.

San Francisco's top-ranked Dons figure to tie it next Friday against Fresno State. And they ought to break past the barrier Jan. 26 after California. They meet Santa Clara next Tuesday.

The Dons closed in on the record by peppering Pepperdine 62-51 last night. It was their 11th success of the season and their 37th straight, matching the old record set by Texas in 1913-17.

Russell Scores 23
San Francisco hustled past Pepperdine in typical style with Al-Ameria Bill Russell showing the way with 23 points and commanding the boards with 21 rebounds.

The Dons were the only members of the top 10 in action last night, but the big boys have a big night ahead, North Carolina State, No. 2, goes after its 24th in a row playing Duke, rated No. 11, in an Atlantic Coast Conference match. And Dayton, No. 3, should have little trouble making it 11-0 against little Iona.

North Carolina, No. 5, meets Wake Forest in another ACC game, while Georgia Tech, which pulled the upsets of the season last year by twice defeating mighty Kentucky, runs into the six-ranked Wildcats once again in a Southeastern Conference scrap.

George Washington—No. 7 plays Richmond in a Southern Conference tussle and Kansas State tests Iowa State—No. 8 in the Big Seven. Indiana and Wisconsin square off in the Big Ten's TV game of the day.

Least Virginia, No. 19, was the only other ranked team on the go last night and the Mountaineers were dumped to a third defeat 54-33 by up-and-down Villanova Jack Weissman's two foul shots with 68 seconds left did it.

Dartmouth, figured as an Ivy League favorite, was upset 69-66 by Penn while Princeton ran away from Brown 85-53.

Temple, one of five remaining major unbeatens, made it 8-0 by whipping Scranton 90-60. And little Hofstra defeated Albright 79-77 for a 3-0 mark.

Temple followed up his statement that "we're cooperating with Helfand 100 per cent" by announcing he had signed middleweights Gene Fulmer of West Jordan, Utah, and Gil Turner of Philadelphia, for Jan. 20 at Syracuse, N.Y., with Helfand's approval.

Fullmer is managed by Marv Jensen of West Jordan. He is not a Guild member. Turner is managed by George Katz, Philadelphia, a member of the Keystone State Managers Guild.

Norris Surprises Guild
Helfand had ordered guildsmen to sever connections with their organizations—which he charged as being "monopolistic," "devious," and "extorsive"—or face loss of their licenses.

Norris' statement that he intended to keep on promoting boxing in New York and make "drastic moves" if he had to, came as a surprise to many of the managers who thought he would stick with the Guild. In the past he has stated "I need the Guild; the Guild needs boxing."

DELONE SQUIRES ARE DEFEATED BY CRUSADERS

The Delone Squires dropped their initial Central Penn Catholic League contest to the Harrisburg Catholic Crusaders 68-51 on the losers' court Friday night. Delone has now fallen under the .500 mark with four wins in nine starts. The Crusaders have an excellent record losing only to Middletown in nine games.

The Squires were a little disappointing in the initial frame by tallying only three points against the visitors 12. After 1:45 seconds in the quarter Skip Weidman, 6'2" Crusader forward, landed a pair of free throws followed by Mike Marinak's set of field goals.

Marinak is a well coordinated 6'5" center incorporating any kind of shot. 3:55 seconds later Delone broke into the scoring column when Richie Hemler dunked a foul shot. Marinak, Weidman and Mick Bekelja rounded out the remainder of the Harrisburg scoring.

Dick Smith, Delone's high point man, tallied the only Squire field goal with a jump shot from the foul circle.

Too Much Power
The Crusaders swamped the Squires with power in the second quarter as Bekelja, Weidman and Avery each landed a foul shot backed up by excellent outside work, combining hooks, or handed push and long set shots by Marinak, Avery, Bekelja and Siegfried. Harrisburg's two 6'5" men, Marinak and Bekelja had little trouble in scoring on rebounds. Delone did a little more scoring in this period. Dick Smith and Richie Hemler contributed from the free throw line while Phil Staub tallied on the two pointers from outside the foul circle. At the end of the first half Harrisburg had worked up 39-15 lead.

With the Crusaders using their original five starters, Delone showed plenty of improvement in the third stanza as they outscored their opponents 21-13. Again it was Dick Smith and Hemler doing the scoring this time with a little help from Johnny Washington. Towards the end of the period, Delone's only tall man, Phil Staub, 6'3", started connecting on his jump shot from the foul circle and also added a pair of free tosses. Again it was Bekelja, Weidman, Marinak and Avery doing all the scoring for the Crusaders.

Rally Falls Short
After falling behind by 27 points in the final frame the Squires fought back to narrow the lead but not enough to capture a victory. Little Johnny Washington, a Gettysburg lad, was the stand out in the fourth frame. His excellent defensive play plus his spectacular set shots and layups sparked the team. Joe Poist and Herb Horwiddle caught fire and added a few needed points backed by Smith, Staub and Hemler. Bekelja continued his fine corner shooting with Marinak and Avery hitting from outside.

Bekelja and Marinak paced the winners with 21 and 20 points respectively while Phil Staub landed 15 for the losers followed by Richie Hemler's 12.

The Delone reserves dropped their third loss of the campaign, as compared to six wins, when the Harrisburg JV's took a 66-50 decision in the preliminary contest. Harrisburg jumped to an 11 point lead and never lost it after that. Bill Ludlum was high man for the Crusaders with 20 points while Lloyd Washington and Joe Jenkins landed 12 each for the Squires.

On Sunday Delone will travel to York to meet York Catholic in their second conference game.

Tatum Status At N. C. Not Settled

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—The much-publicized move to return Maryland's Jim Tatum to the University of North Carolina as head football coach was bogged down in official routine today.

There was no official hint as to whether an agreement had been reached with Genial Jim, the Tar Heel alumnus who made good at College Park. Tatum spent yesterday in a round of conferences with the university's top brass.

Chancellor Robert B. House said he would have to clear the matter with the faculty committee on athletics and the full athletic committee (both advisory groups), and he executive committee of the board of trustees, before making a recommendation to Dr. J. Harris Purks, acting college president.

Following Canner lads scored falls as follows: George Flickinger, 95-pound class; Mel Lott, 120; Bob Shaffer, 133; Jim Daughnbaugh, 138, and Ralph Mentzer, 165.

Each school won matches on forfeits, Carlisle the 103-pound event, and Biglerville the 112.

Next Saturday Biglerville journeys to Bolling Springs for another Section 2 meet. The clash had previously been announced to be held at Biglerville.

The summaries:

New Cars Bring Additional Advantages; Tells, How To Check Operating Efficiency

The reason why careful drivers have so much success is because they have so little competition.

Because your car's various parts so closely related to each other you can use one of them to check the efficiency of another. It provides a surprisingly effective way to keep a closer check on the car's general behavior, and right as you are driving along.

The steering gear, for example, is an effective check on front brake equality. When the car's lights flare up as the motor is accelerated at night it means that the battery is weak, and that in turn may point to trouble at the generator or its regulator. The feel of the gear shift lever has always been a clue to the smoothness of the engine, and now that cars are equipped with automatic drives we know if there is severe engagement when the selector lever is moved from neutral there may be too high engine idle speed or trouble with the throttle linkage.

One observing driver noticed that the pointer of the gas gauge moved too much as the car traveled a wavy road. It meant to him that the rear end of the car was bobbing and that one of the rear shock absorbers wasn't working properly. It never can lock the wheels for parking merely by pressing a button, and the car can't be moved again until the ignition is switched on. One of the latest automatic transmissions has two fluid drive units.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"When use of a higher degree motor thermostat fails to improve the car heater's efficiency there's a good chance that one of the hose lines to the heater isn't clear, thus retarding flow of coolant through the heater's core. Another thing that causes loss of heater efficiency in winter is a too low coolant level in the radiator. This is likely to happen where the owner is too eager to keep the coolant level high. He fills the radiator to high, so that when expansion takes place much coolant is forced out the radiator overflow pipe. If the heater is mounted under the dash its core may then be higher than the coolant level. Air in the system is no help to heating."

There is much to be said for the wisdom of knowing when to apply the brakes and when not to. If, for instance, you are traveling over a road which suddenly becomes icy the trick is to break hard when you are between the patches, allowing the car to go along freely when its wheels actually are on the ice. The best time to brake the car's speed way down is at the top of a decline rather than after the car has picked up speed on the descent. My rule for a sudden stop is to give the brakes a trial to see if they are properly equalized. Then I go down on the pedal immediately again with enough power to just start the wheels locking. Then I quickly release the brakes and pump the pedal again. It is that second push on the pedal that really brings the car's speed down, safely.

Keep These In Mind

Carburetor manufacturers warn against the use of wire for cleaning out clogged carburetor jets. This is too rough treatment, and may result in jet damage.

When running over a patch of ice be careful not to take your foot off the accelerator pedal abruptly because that will invite engine compression braking. Just maintaining your regular speed over the ice patch and the car is much less likely to skid. Steer in a straight line too.

Among the many advances which are now on the drawing boards of American car designers is the "swing axle" for the car's rear. This is independent rear springing, designed not merely to provide for a better ride but also to help check unequal traction of the rear wheels when the driver is "gunning" the engine for quick take-off. In the "swing" design the rear axle housing with its reduction gears and the differential is mounted to the frame of the car. The live axles which run to the wheels have universal joints.

In the ideal set-up the automatic transmission would also be mounted at the rear and the brakes would be inboard. That is, the brakes would operate on the axles near the differential instead of at the rear wheels. All this would greatly decrease unsprung weight and thus give a better ride and better control.

Some of the most popular European cars, and many of the racing cars, feature independent rear suspension in a variety of forms.

For Future Reference

It has been found that much brake squealing is due to incorrect cam pin height. This causes the shoes to contact the drum on either the inner or outer edge of the lining, instead of evenly.

The more efficient the fuel filter on your car the more particles you should be about lubricants put into the gasoline. Make sure they do not clog the filter.

One of my good readers has given me a very interesting report on a condition which his mechanic discovered when trying to figure out why the brakes continued to chatter even after new linings were installed. Since the old linings had worn down to the rivets quite naturally it was assumed that this accounted for the trouble. But a further check revealed the fact that the left front brake drum had cracked in several places. This set up vibration and made smooth shoe engagement impossible.

There's another angle to this, too. Quite possibly rivets may have cut into the drum enough to weaken it. It is a good lesson to have brake work done before damage begins.

Q. Recently I notice quite a rattling noise whenever I switch off the engine. Naturally I hear this most when putting the car away in the garage. K. B. H.

A. Probably the air cleaner is loose. When the engine shakes this unit atop the carburetor gets quite a reaction.

Q. Occasionally I seem unable to get the car to back up even though the selector lever for the automatic transmission is in the reverse position. There is ample fluid in the system. Everything else works normally. Wm. D. F.

A. Current fails to complete the circuit for reverse in the particular system used on your car. Just a matter of checking the circuit and its connections.

Q. I have been having trouble with the power steering unit on my car. When going downhill there is a decided pull to the left at times which is dangerous because I find the car wanting to head into oncoming traffic. W. T. McN.

A. You will find that this has nothing to do with the power steering unit. There is trouble with the brakes. You will find that the left front brake is grabbing probably due to a warped drum or some brake fluid or bearing grease on the lining.

Q. What would cause my car to stall when going around a left turn? This usually happens when I take the turn a little too sharply, and also the turn has to be a fairly long one. I can swing around an ordinary corner without difficulty. I have been told that this may indicate a weak fuel pump, but if this is the answer why doesn't the pump fail during a right hand turn? J. L. C.

A. The fuel pump isn't the answer here. You will find that the carburetor floats are binding against the inside of the float bowl. There isn't much clearance, and floats are not too hardy. Your mechanic can bend the arms and adjust for proper clearance.

Q. I am driving into a colder climate where the car may be subjected to a night or two of very low temperature. The cooling system is protected down to 15 below zero, and is of the ethylene glycol type which is often referred to as "permanent." Should I add more antifreeze? N. N. L.

A. It would be advisable, although this type antifreeze doesn't freeze so solid if the temperature goes below the protection point. Intead it forms a sort of slush.

Q. There is a peculiar shivering action to my car, a convertible. I have checked the shock absorbers and do not carry the tire pressures too high. This occurs on washboard or very bump roads. Other times the car's body seems very tight and the riding qualities are all one could ask for. Does this indicate a broken frame? N. J. F.

A. You are just noticing a weakness of convertibles. In the trade

NAB 250 IN RED PLOT IN CHILE

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — At least 250 persons were under arrest today as the government pushed a stiff campaign to avert a threatened nationwide work stoppage.

A government spokesman charged there were signs of "insurrection" to incite the nation.

Those arrested included union leaders, opposition politicians, newspapermen and some former associates of President Carlos Ibanez. The arrests were made in many cities over the country. The government asserted that many of those taken into custody were Communist or pro-Communist.

Action was taken under state of siege decreed Thursday night by Ibanez.

Chile's big Central Labor Union (CUT) called a nationwide strike for Monday in opposition to a government proposal to freeze wages, prices and pensions in an effort to curtail inflation. The government said such a plan was necessary to save the nation's economy but union leaders and opposition political groups said it would cause hunger throughout the country.

U. S. MEDIATOR URGES ENDING LABOR DISPUTE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Joseph Finnegan, top federal mediator, has urged Westinghouse Electric Corp. and a striking union to exhaust every resource in an effort to end their long dispute—even to reviving settlement proposals rejected in the past.

He made the comment to newsmen yesterday after informing them he had relayed to the AFO-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers a Westinghouse proposal that the union's 44,000 striking members vote secretly whether they would accept the company's five-year contract offer and go back to work.

Negotiators for the IUE previously rejected such a plan, and suggested instead a membership vote choosing between the company offer and the union's demands.

No Progress Report
There has been no report of progress following company negotiations with the independent United Electrical Workers here yesterday. It was the first bargaining talks between the two since before Christmas. Some 10,500 IUE members are on strike at Westinghouse.

Meanwhile, in the state Senate at Harrisburg, Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, said he will call on the Legislature to investigate if there is a continuance of what he called violence at struck Westinghouse plants in Sharon, Pa., and Greenville, Pa.

"Because of mob violence at Sharon and Greenville the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania faces a very serious situation," Mahany said.

Heart Attack

In Columbus, Ohio, an official said the death of a Westinghouse striker during a mass demonstration at the plant there last Tuesday was due to natural causes.

Dr. Robert A. Evans, Franklin County coroner, said the death of Troy Tadlock was due to a coronary thrombosis. "The case is closed," Evans said.
